Fabulous day yesterday for Clean Up Australia Day. We had over 30 people including Zoe Daniel and her teal army of helpers, James Newbury MP and lots of other wonderful families and helpers. We collected 30kg of rubbish from Brighton's beautiful beaches. See you all back next month on April 2nd!

The efforts of a beach clean-up group in Brighton have been recognised in parliament.

"Last year local mother Sarah and her 12-year-old daughter Milla formed the 3186 Beach Patrol," James Newbury MP (Member for Brighton) told the Legislative Assembly in a Member's Statement.

"The patrol meets each month to clean Brighton Beach," he said.

"On Sunday I joined a small army of volunteers and helped collect 30 kilograms of rubbish from our iconic beach. Thank you to Sarah and Milla for your environmental leadership."

Join me at Brighton Beach this Sunday to get involved in 3186 Beach Patrol's annual Clean Up Australia Day. All ages are welcome.

The meeting point is under the palm tree at the shore end of Brighton Pier, next to the iconic Brighton Baths.

Sunday 5th March, 9am - 10:30am.

See you there!

CLEAN UP AUSTRALIA DAY.

A year ago, Sarah and her twelve year old daughter Milla started 3186 Beach Patrol. This morning, the crew and I headed out onto Brighton Beach for a big clean up! Congratulations Sarah and Milla on the local initiative.
